Principal's Address

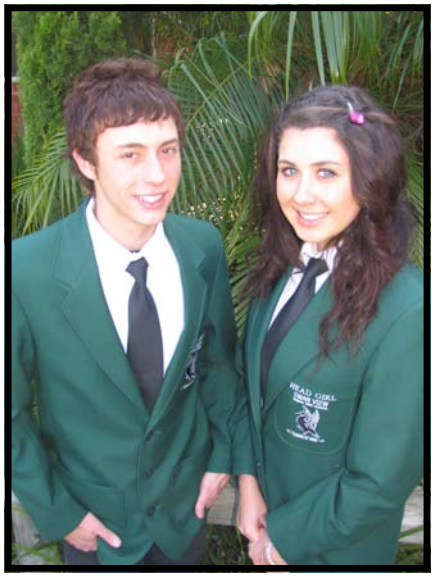

The Class of 2010 will be remembered for its willingness to participate and work toward a future for themselves and their community. I am sure that the class of 2010 will look back on their year that brings back great memories.

Year 12 students this year have continued the hard work in classes that has led to such success in graduation and results over the last few years. It has been a year though with many highlights. In February the Year 12s had a camp at Woodman Point to help them set goals and improve their study skills. This was a great success and began the year for the class of 2010 really well. The annual Beach Swimming Carnival, also in Term 1, is always a wonderful event and this year's was even more so with lots of participation and some wonderful performances. For many students the School Ball held in March at the Sheraton Hotel was the event of the year and Amy Tozer and Aaron Lynn were awarded Belle and Beau of the Ball.

There have been lots of other activities and events too. Year 12 students opened a time capsule that was buried in 2006 by Ms Linda Daniel's S&E class and was opened again by some of the students who were in the class in 2006. Students participated in a trip to Canberra and Sydney as part of economics and politics studies. Drama students presented several plays during the year, but the most notable was the whole school production of Little Shop of Horrors in Term 3. Several dance Flash Mobs entertained us during the year, but particularly the Thriller mob that impressed not only students at recess, but during an assembly as well. Several presentations from the food science class during book week and as formal lunches in Home Economics showed the skills of many of our students in the hospitality area. In October the Year 12s presented their gift to the school which was a tile mosaic that now adorns the sails quadrangle. Year 12 and 11 students also participated in developing a mural for the ramp to the Science block. This was a collaborative effort with our Artist in residence Ms Jodi Forth. During Second Semester students studying science subjects were fortunate to be able to move in to newly refurbished science rooms which have been universally praised by both staff and students.

I would like to take this opportunity to acknowledge the work of our Year 12 Coordinator for 2010, Ms Julie-Ann Ogilvie. Ms Ogilvie's energy, enthusiasm, patience and good humour has inspired this group of Year 12's to be the great citizens that they have been. The Student Representative Council also have been a wonderful, helpful group of students. The assistance of Ms Kate Rogers and Ms Wendy Nelson has helped to bind this Council into the committed group of students it has been this year. I also wish to single out our Head Girl, Olivia Middleton and our Head Boy Daniel Mills who have been great ambassadors for the school and powerful voices on behalf of the student body.

To the class of 2010, I wish you the very best of luck in the future. As a group you can be proud of your achievements across a wide variety of fields. You have enriched the life of the school and in doing so have enriched your own lives. You are well prepared for the new directions and for the new challenges that await you.

A Step Back in Time…

Year 8 Memories

Back in 2006, Ms Linda Daniel an S&E teacher at our school buried a time capsule with her Year 8 class near the Education Support Unit. She returned on Wednesday 18 August to dig up the time capsule with the students.

The students involved are Nikayla Ahmed, Christopher Beales, Brooke Curtis, Dylan Harman, Ben Matthews, Jon Matthews, Laura McClean, Brent Thomas and Amy Tozer in Year 12 and Rebecca Jackson in Year 11.

Society and Environment

The beginning of the high school experience, although terrifying for many, was full of exciting possibilities, as well as potential failure. Very quickly most of the students rose to the challenges of a new level of education, although a few retained their primary school outlook for most of their secondary schooling careers. Lower school Society and Environment was a highlight fraught with many problems including a sword fight between Jaxon White and Mrs Hobbs, which ended with Mrs Hobbs using a chair as a shield, while Jaxon moved in for the kill. Needless to say Medieval Society was approached with much less rigor in future years.

The wide eyed Year 8's were welcomed to high school S&E with a range of learning activities to help them learn about their world. Mrs Hobbs' class began high school with a study of the Ancient World and got to role play being, and dress up as, Greek Gods and Citizens. They also cooked a Greek feast for their parents on the Parent/Teacher Evening. Miss Daniel's class entombed a time capsule, and those students still at school this year eagerly anticipated its exhumation in term 3 this year. There were shrieks of delight and moans of embarrassment as students reminisced over the contents of the capsule.

Role play games such as Law and Order and CSI to help learn about the law, and mock elections, gave experience on voting. The Year 9 excursion to the Law Courts proved an interesting adventure, with students having to be so silent during the trial they actually fell asleep! Voting for Mars Bars and Crunchies raised the passions of two boys as they vigorously argued over which should win (if only their passion for government was as high). The WALNA testing was burdened with problems as students stressed and argued through the trial, but all survived the process unscarred.

In Year 10, Mrs Hoffman's passion for people and the environment came to the fore with the films she showed. This was especially evident as she fought back tears through G*orillas in Mist*. Watching the film Alive just before lunch proved to be questionable, but everyone felt teary watching Hotel Rwanda. The excursion to the Brown's-Peter's Ice Cream Factory saw students wearing hats designed for little kids for several weeks after.

As Upper School began, we saw students develop into interesting young people, and although we lost many to other subjects we continued to build memories that were not necessarily the ones we could assess. Some of the more memorable have been the Stage1 History excursion to Guildford, where Mrs Hobbs made the class walk the streets of Guildford for 5 1/2 hours, but the highlight was not the amazing historical buildings and sites, but playing on the swings and guns in Sterling Square. Their trip to the Battye Library was less energetic, and the most remembered part was not exploring the tombs in the back of the library where no one is usually allowed, but the lunch at the Carillion involving all the red foods banned at school with Mrs Hobbs frantically running between the food outlets tying her hardest to monitor the illicit purchases and contraband being smuggled into bags. The geography excursion in Year 11, saw students corralled by echidnas after their walk through the forest feebly attempting to identify the local flora, much to the disappointment of Mr Iemmolo.

Over the five years the 2010 Leavers have enjoyed a variety of events in Society and Environment. As a staff we have seen many leave, and some return. Students' memories of S&E may not be 'three ways scale is written on a map', or 'who was Australia's first Prime Minister?', but we hope they have left us remembering school was important to their development as citizens and we wish them all success in the future.

Mrs Dianne Hobbs

Little Shop Of Horrors 2010

This year's production was an adaptation of the original screenplay of "The Little Shop of Horrors", written by Charles Griffith & directed by Roger Corman. The film was made in 1960 and is a much darker, stranger comedy than the musical made in the 1980s.

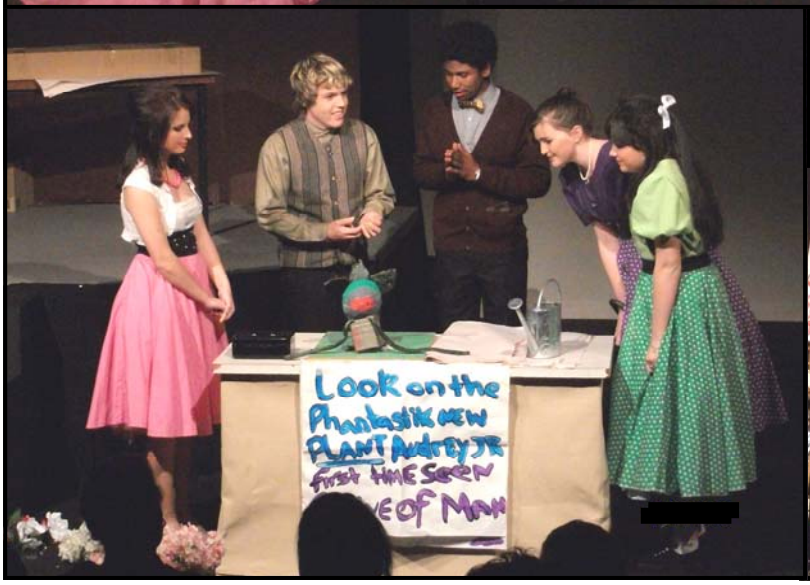

The cast and crew were made up of students from Years 8 – 12 who worked for 5 months to produce a fantastic show. We did 11 performances, both for the general public and for our local primary schools – the overall audience response was that the show was a resounding success.

Jewellery

Well what a wonderful 2 years I have had with my 2009 - 2010 Jewellery class. I must say that they are a stand out with their design skills. Their patience, another thing, something that I hope they have eventually learnt! Congratulations on all of your accomplishments over the past two years, I believe that it will be hard to find the same quality of talent that this group of students possess. I will miss my 2010 Jewellery class. I will miss the cheekiness of the boys and the hard work of the girls.

In 2009 Swan View SHS's Jaxon White's 'SHIELD' was selected in the Young Originals, (A Department of Education initiative), with many of the students' works going on to take part in the Young Perspective's. This work was shown with other outstanding art specialist schools. This was followed by Jaxon also winning first Prize at The Darlington Arts Festival. He was also honoured in having his work acquired on the opening night.

Elizabeth Holloway designed five heart shaped pendants that were put on sale at the Holmes a` Court Gallery and acquired by the Gallery Manager as well as ordered by Swan View SHS staff members.

In the 2010 Central Institute of Technology Inaugural Design Awards, Swan View SHS was a stand out winner. Jewellery Design Winner - Andrew Amato, Runner Up - Elizabeth Holloway, Object Design Winner - Amy Tozer and Runner Up - Jaxon White.

Stacie Woodward is also a Darlington Arts Festival winner.

YEAR 12 CAMP

WOODMAN POINT

8th - 10th February, 2010

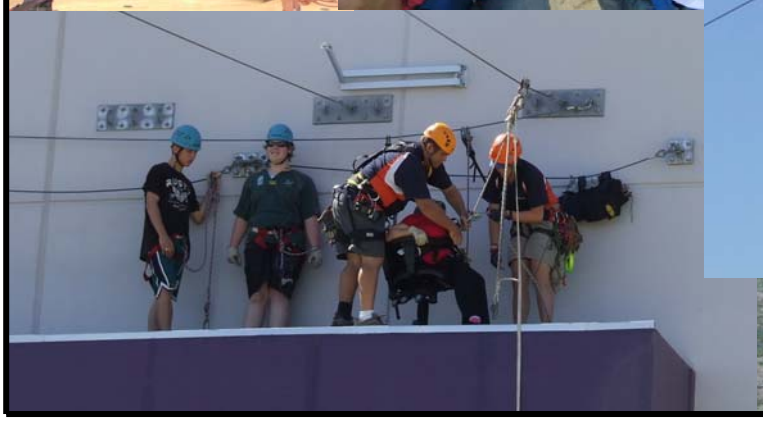

Seventy-Five students and 6 staff members embarked on the first ever Year 12 Study Skills & Team Building Camp. Destined for Woodman Point all participants were excited and unsure of what to expect. On our arrival the energy in the air increased as we hopped off the buses and discovered our dorms. All were pleasantly surprised at the size of the dorms and sleeping cabins. We had 20 minutes to unpack and get our orientation done before the activities began.

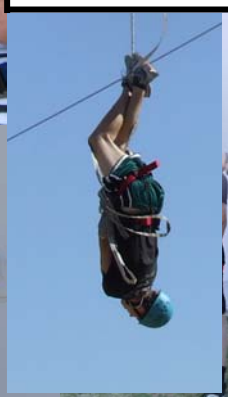

Students worked in groups of 15 on goal setting, time management, learning styles and note taking taught by Mrs Janet Griffin & Mrs Angela Knight. Ms Helen Henry gave a workshop of coping with stress, whilst Ms Kate Rogers and Mrs Latiefa Adams ran workshops focusing on etiquette and dancing in preparation for the school ball. All of these skills would assist the Yr 12's to manage the work load expected of them in 2010, as well as increasing their leadership skills within the whole school setting.

Students worked in groups where new friendships and team mates were made. All took part in activities and were encouraged by each other. It was a rewarding experience that the students will remember for a long time.

Some special highlights for me was watching everyone overcome their fear of heights on the flying fox and rock climbing, watching students get lost and confused in the search and rescue, the art activity which students took part in as a gift to the school, and most of all the relationships I built with the students and the smiles and laughter that I will always remember.

SCIENCE

What mixed feelings I have about the wonderful year 12 Chemistry class!

Gees, I am pleased that it is finally over for them all with the tough WACE Chemistry exam over. But mostly I am sad I will not see their faces four times a week. They have made me laugh (Jennifer and Aaron), scream (Glenn, Tyler and Brent), threaten (Phillip and Hayden), phone (Kaleb and Lidija, it is your fault when I need to phone), cry (Rose and Brody), but mostly they have all impressed me with their constant questioning to make sure they fully understand or was it all to drive me nuts.

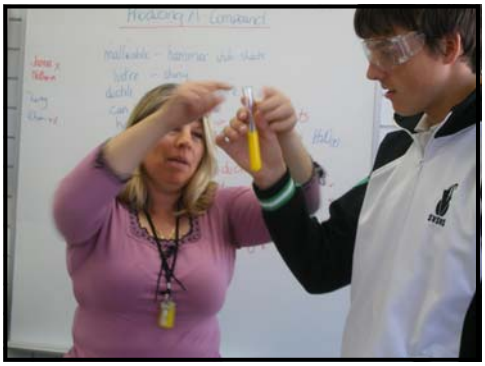

What a great couple of years together. I know they learnt alot and had fun doing it. They all passed the Chemistry course and let me tell you that is not often the case. Even outside agencies recognised their ability since the results in the National Chemistry Quiz exceeded last years, with Brent and Phillip achieving in the top 4%.

Dear Lidija, Jennifer, Rose, Tyler, Phillip, Brody, Kaleb, Aaron, Hayden, Glenn and Brent; have fun but aim high and be good while you are doing it. I wish all of you the best for the future.

Media

It's been an interesting year in Media and the Year 12's have been a fantastic bunch of students to teach. I'm going to miss their happy faces and friendships that we have developed over the year. I wish them all the best for the future and hope that they have enjoyed their time doing Media at Swan View Senior High School. Each student below has been given a movie title that I believe encapsulates their personality.

MEET THE STUDENTS

Lucie Skelton I always looked forward to her shy smile in class. Her nicknames were Skelts, Helter Skelter and LSD. If I was a comedian I would want her in the audience because she was the only one who laughed at all my jokes.

My Fair Lady

Stef Lucy Better known as Stacey's mum, Stef is a hard worker who aims to please. Inseparable from her twin Shenae. Also known as Lucy in the Sky.

Alice In Wonderland

Shenae Phillips If Shenae was a Beatle she would be the quiet one. A very hard worker who came across as shy and reserved but will turn into a party animal. Dark & Mysterious.

Inception

Kimberley Butler The super model of the class. Joined at the hip with Skelts. If one was away you would bet that the other was with her. It was do Media together or not do it at all.

Twins

Stacie Woodward A fantastic personality and truly genuine individual. Full of great Arty ideas and a closet Arsenal supporter I am sure.

A Star Is Born

Jessica Stobie Has been doing Media since Year 9. Can be quite moody at times but I will never forget the Stobes. One of my faves over the years.

The Special Relationship

Rochelle Patterson The kind of person you'd want as your friend. Rochelle was funny, temperamental, and quirky all at the same time. (Just ask Cruz). Earnt the nickname Panasonic kid. Will miss her.

Raging Bull

Jaimie Jones Another of the quiet achievers. Media seemed to come naturally to Jaimie even though she didn't think so.

Twilight

Daniel Mills Mr on time. Would always hand in his work on the deadline. A great student who was easy to talk to. Not so confident on camera as the 'Suburbia' incident proved in second term.

Goodfellas

Stephene Samuels Pocket dynamo with a fantastic personality. Has a smile that will melt hearts. Very head strong.

The Girl Who Played With Fire

Olivia Middleton I will miss Olivia. She was a great Head Girl with a fantastic personality. I'm glad she stuck with Media.

Up In The Air

Stephen McCallum Stephen is the kind of guy that makes you glad you're a teacher. He is kind and sincere and genuinely shows an interest in your subject. A very creative and funny guy. Astounded with his knowledge of pop culture.

The Hustler

Dylan Harman Another of the quiet ones. Not good at meeting deadlines but very gentle and sincere. If he wasn't in a production with Stephen then it is likely that the production wouldn't be finished.

The Quiet Man

Rachel Woodhouse Another student with an infectious smile. She was a quiet busy bee and always got her work in on time. A pretty good sense of humour to boot.

Clueless

Dylan Pownall The other stooges didn't bother to join him in Year 12. Easy to talk to guy with a good sense of humour. Could've done a bit more work though. Always with a ball in his hand.

Rebel Without A Cause

Scott Bell A great personality and well liked by all. He just needs to know when to shut up.

Jaws/ Jackass 3D

Phillip Butland Has done Media for years and when he's finally got it he leaves.

Gone With The Wind

Sam Priest Don't mess with Samantha. She has a fiery personality and an acerbic tongue. Really started to get the hang of Media towards the end and I will miss her.

Terminator

Fareed Kvaich The only time Fareed was motivated was when there was a production to get done. Another whose done Media for a long time and picked up some good editing skills along the way. Would switch off during theory.

The Big Sleep

Luke Osborn Sometimes I think Luke only did Media so he could stare at Fareed all day. He was a pretty cool customer and another who had to have a ball in his hand 24/7.

Cool Hand Luke

Crissie Munro Didn't see her that much this year due to her workplace commitments. Big improver towards the end of the year.

Hardly Working

Brooke Curtis Very emotional at times. With a bit more focus could've been very successful in this subject.

Step Up

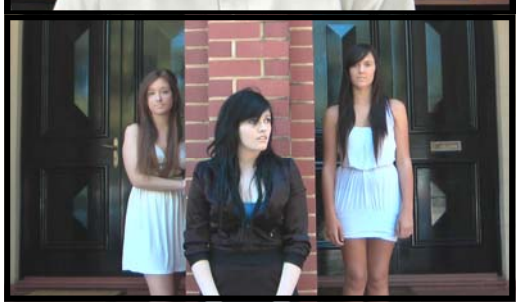

Courtney Graham Did what she had to do to pass Media. Cruised most of the time without getting into 5th gear and still did well. She has a gorgeous smile.

The Bad & The Beautiful

Jessica Kirby The silent talker. The kind of student you need in class when the rest are competing for attention from each other.

All Quiet on the Western Front

Laura McLean I'm going to miss Laura. She may become a dentist one day. A bit of a motor mouth and always happy and bubbly.

The Conversation

Outdoor Education

The 2010 year group has a large number of students who have been involved in this course at some point during their time at Swan View. During this time students have had the chance to participate in outdoor pursuits including, Hiking, Canoeing, Mountain Biking and Camping. They have also been able to visit some amazing places including the Munda Biddi Trail, Bibbulum Track, Dwellingup, Lane Poole Reserve, Murray River and the Stirling Ranges.

Dwellingup has proved to be a regular visiting place for our expeditions. These have included a number of hikes, mountain biking trip and also canoeing and rafting trips. The water in the Murray River was always freezing and the air temperature was often not much warmer. Thermals were a common sight as we tried to stay warm and dry as much as possible. We conquered the main rapid section of the Murray River in our inflatable rafts which has never been done by another Swan View group before. Rapids named Rollercoaster, Shark's tooth, Washing Machine, and the Slide were all heaps of fun, but also saw many students end up in the icy water. Mountain Biking was another major mode of travel for us. We spent time around school riding to John Forest National Park and other places to get ready for our trek on the Munda Biddi – and what a trek it was. One of our classes covered over 100km in a four day expedition with our main riding day including over 50km. We slept well that night! There were a few stacks, lots of uphills, but also some amazing downhill riding which kept us going.

Outdoor Education has been a challenging and hopefully enjoyable course for many students at Swan View SHS. The class of 2010 has a large number of students who have been part of our programs. I have been so impressed with this group of students. Their development into fantastic young people has been a pleasure to watch as we've shared a number of adventures together out in the natural environment. The most important thing about Outdoor Education is the leadership and personal development which occurs when young people are taken out of their comfort zones and placed in situations where working as a team is necessary to achieve our goals. I have been very fortunate to witness a group of young people conquer any challenge that has been put before them by working together and in the process I have seen them grow into fantastic leaders and people.

So let's finish with one final 'de-brief':

Good – The view from the top of the Stirling Ranges (climbing Ellen's Peak)

Bad – Dannica's Foot injury in 2010 (only hospital trip ever)

Funny – How much conflict can be caused from a cooking group wanting to buy one pack of easy mac!

Thanks very much to everyone who has been in Outdoor Education from year 10-12

It's been fun!

Year 12 Leader's Address

In 2008 I became the Yr 10 leader.

I must admit now that this has been one of the hardest jobs I've had to do since becoming a teacher. It has also been one of the most rewarding things I have done in my life.

I have watched as these young adults have grown and matured into the people we see before us today. I am so proud of each and every one of you and I wish you all the best in the achieving your future goals and dreams.

Remember who you are!

Where you come from. This will never change, this will always be a part of you.

You can only change what's ahead of you in the future. I want you to look back and be proud that you come from Swan View Senior High School.

Remember what you have learnt.

This will give you the skills you will need to move forward in your life

Remember the friendships & relationships you have made HERE, they will always be remembered.

Good bye and Good luck.

I will miss you all.

Ms Julie-Ann Ogilvie

YEAR 12'S PARTING GIFT TO THE SCHOOL

On the 20th October the class of 2010 presented Swan View SHS with their parting gift.

This is the first public artwork to be presented to the school by the Year 12's. It is a large mosaic which incorporates every Year 12's name in the work.

The ocean theme was first developed back on the Year 12 camp which was held at Woodman Point. While there, the students worked on a textured fish tile which was later glazed and fired to be used as the main theme behind the work. "A Small Fish in a Large Ocean" is what the work is titled. It represents the students in the school, all a small part of a larger community within the school and in our local community.
