I hope that you look back on your time at Swan View Senior High School with many wonderful memories of interesting learning experiences, friendships and a supportive school community.

My special thanks to the Year book Committee who have worked tirelessly to complete this wonderful publication.

I wish all students the very best in their future endeavours and strive for excellence in everything you do.

Year Coordinator

TIMOTHY SMITH

To start with, I would just like to say thank you for this year together. It seems like only last week, I was standing in the same spot introducing myself as your Year Coordinator. You probably didn't believe us all when we said it would fly by. Before we could have realised, everything is said and done. Your last assessments have been submitted, you've sat through your last classes and it'll have been the last time you'll have to ask for permission to go to the toilet or get a drink.

But it has been a great year for me getting to know you and find out the things that make you all individuals. Each of you bring something unique and amazing. Some of these hidden strengths have sometimes been a complete surprise to find out and something that I loved being able to do in this role. I've been able to make new relationships and ties to some of you and build on the ones I already had. You truly are a great bunch. And you should be proud of what you have achieved.

I've seen some of you have worked tirelessly and should walk out of here with your heads held high. It's been nothing short of a weird year with COVID derailing everything but you've done well to take it in your stride. Overcoming the twists and turns that have been thrown at you. However, this is not the end of your journey though, as you still have a lifetime in front of you. This year has definitely prepared you for that.

It's been a journey of six years for most of you at Swan View Senior High School and I only had the privilege of meeting some of you on prac, almost three years ago. In that time, you can easily see the amount you've grown. You've all matured, settled and become more confident in the people you are becoming.

I hope these years have been some of the best years of your life and you look back on your time here with fondness. But I hope they pale in comparison in what is to come. From here, you are faced with so many opportunities to grow, experience and enjoy. A chance to be the person you want to be. Just make sure you take everything you can to help you on your way.

My main focus for you this year was growth. What was coming next. So I'll leave you with a quote because that's what everyone does in a graduation speech. As Genesis Owusu says, 'Who I was and who I am is not who I will be.' Now go, grow and live.

Thank you.

Chaplain's Address

JON JON RAMIREZ

2020...wow! I remember last year when the worst thing that happened in the world was the Game of thrones Finale!

In July I remember having to wait in line at a store in the city.

A lovely lady was at the door in charge of regulating the number of people coming in and out because of the restrictions placed on the store, as the line was moving slowly I up struck up a conversation with her.

During our chat I asked her what is she grateful for amongst all this madness, she said "That's a great question because all we are thinking about at the moment is what we can't do!"

She later said that she was grateful that she still has a job and that we live in Western Australia, something I was grateful for as well.

Let's talk about gratitude.

You can't be a happy person if you aren't grateful, and you can't be a good person if you aren't grateful. Almost everything good flows from gratitude, and almost everything bad flows from ingratitude.

Here are two rules of life I learned from Prager University

Rule number one: The less you feel entitled to, the more gratitude you will feel for whatever you get and the happier you will be.

Rule number two: The more you feel entitled to, the less happy you will be. For example, children who get whatever they want are usually less happy children. We have a word for such children: spoiled. And no one thinks of a spoiled child as a happy child, and certainly not a kind one.

All we have to do is increase just one human trait. This trait is so powerful that it alone can make people happier without working on their happiness, and make them better – and by "better," I mean more generous, more honest, more kind, more everything good – without a single lesson in morality

Godspeed

It was just six years ago when we first entered those gates and looking back, it's so weird to think how fast it's gone by. Six years of memories made with our friends, classmates, teachers and non-teaching staff. Six years of memories, some good, some bad, but mostly memorable experiences that we will forever cherish. High school hasn't been the easiest ride, especially this year due to COVID-19. But all the challenges, successes and failures that came with it have equipped us with the skills and knowledge we need to tackle the real world. It is with gratitude that we acknowledge our staff, teachers and family members today that made this journey easier for us. You have bared witness to our accomplishments and our failures, and every time we stumbled, you have helped put us back on our feet. We wouldn't be standing here today if it weren't for you.

Apart from maybe y=mx+c, APIGSMESS and the mitochondria is the powerhouse of the cell, school has taught us a lot of things that we can take into the real world. Looking back when we were just little twelve-year-olds, or twelvies, getting lost around the school asking the older students for directions, only for them to lead us astray... to now as Year 12 students graduating in a few weeks. It hasn't been easy. Regardless, all the dedication and hard work that we have done as a year group; we have grown from these experiences, which has shaped us to become stronger, smarter, more independent and resilient individuals. High school has taught and shown us, that no one's life is perfect. But it's from the failures that we grow, it's the setbacks, hard work and dedication that lead to our successes. High school has shaped our resilience in many ways, not only academically, but socially, emotionally, mentally and psychologically. How to better equip ourselves in stressful situations such as university, TAFE, the workforce, relationships and life in general.

For the Year 12 students next year; class of 2021, this will be you in a year. Before you know it, you too will be graduating so enjoy and savour every moment while it lasts. Like us, you will soon be aboard the express train full of exams, assessments, high expectations, emotional breakdowns and maybe even a heartbreak or two, or three..... but there will always be light at the end of the tunnel. You have so much to look forward to so enjoy every bit of it. Work hard, but always give yourself time to rest. Be nice to your teachers (this is for everyone, not just the Year 11s), they go above and beyond their profession to provide us with all the help we need. But most importantly, do not let failure get in the way of your dreams. Failure is not the opposite of success, It is only a small part of it.

Class of 2020, it has been a pleasure. From the bottom of my heart, I wish you all the best for the future. The world is our oyster, and as Colossians 3:23 says, "Whatever you do, work at it with all your heart."

Your head girl,
Lhiyaizza Ramirez

DEKLAN BURNS

As this year comes to a close I was sitting back reminiscing about the days in Year 7. I still remember the first time I walked through the big front gates. My backpack was almost bigger than me, it was heavier than me and I only knew a couple of people. I was terrified.

Class of 2020, where do I start with you all? There are so many memories that I have with every one of you. My first proper memory was rocking up to school on my second day of Year 7 – one guy was following me into the school gates and asked me for a smoke! If there is one thing that I will always remember about school, it's my first-ever outdoor ed camp. We walked a portion of the Cape to Cape track with one of the best classes of my schooling journey. It took Mr. Lorraine 45 minutes to catch up with Tyler and I cause we walked 'too fast'...

If I had some advice to give to you all, It would be, go to all your classes. Have fun while doing your work, always ask questions even if you may think it's stupid. Find a good group of friends that hold you down.

Special thanks to Mr. Staer, Mr. Salinas, Mr. Moon for pulling me into line when I had my "eshay" days, when I thought I was cool for wagging almost every class except for basketball and sport.

To Mr Staer, thank you for showing me that 1 kilometre can be done in under 4 minutes, for doing kilometre club and for leading me down the right path when I had no idea what I was doing. Thank you to all my Phys-Ed teachers over the years, for letting me be so competitive. Thanks to those who made fun of me for getting injured and especially to the ones who helped walk me to the office. Down in PE, they call me the liability – thanks, Fletch!

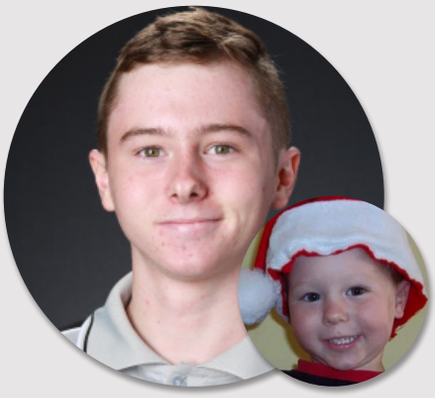

Thank you to my wonderful family for putting up with me, to my mum you are my rock. Thank you for always helping me, even when you had cancer and we were in the ICU. Thanks for all the phone calls we had, to help me or to tell you how well I was doing with my umpiring. To my dad, cheers for always being on my back about handing in late assignments and for always packing me lunch. To my brother, thanks for not doing much really, I appreciate it.

Class of 2020, I can't thank you all enough for the times we have shared throughout these years. Thank you for all the inside jokes, for all the ideas to try and improve the school. I wish you all the best for the future. Never hesitate to ask questions. Chase your dreams (even if you don't like running), because they won't chase you. As Deano said, "squeeze the orange to get the most out of yourself, whether it be a class, the day, yourself or the gym session."

All clear, one goal
Signing off,
Burnsy.
