SWAN VIEW

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL YEARBOOK

2021

Principal's Address

DR. GEORGE SEKULLA

My sincere congratulations to the Year 12 class of 2021.

There have been many highlights to a very extraordinary year. It is my sincere hope that you will enjoy this Year book, treasuring the moments of success and achievements enjoyed by students and staff.

As this Year book shows, Swan View students will be the leaders of the future, they will have friends from different nationalities and cultures, and become builders of community characterised by consideration and respect for one another.

I hope that you look back on your time at Swan View Senior High School with many wonderful memories of interesting learning experiences, friendships and a supportive school community.

My special thanks to the Year book Committee who have worked tirelessly to complete this wonderful publication.

I wish all students the very best in their future endeavours and strive for excellence in everything you do

Year Coordinator

ANDY BLAIKIE

As well as being Year 12 Coordinator, I am also the Media Teacher. One of the best things about being the Media Teacher is I get to edit school videoes and presentations like the one we played at the Year 12 Final Assembly. This always brings a smile to my face and I often laugh out loud while I'm editing. The visual presentation is no exception. It really made me laugh so much to look at your Year 7 faces again and made me feel so privileged to see you all grow into such nice people. Then it occurred to me, these chapters of your lives have pretty much been six year increments. Zero, six, twelve & eighteen. You know, birth, Primary School, High School and now. This made me think about your entire lives in six year increments.

Zero, your born. That's pretty significant. You learn to walk and talk and before you know it, you're six. You go to Primary School, make some friends, your first pet dies and you learn to deal with emotions. Then all of a sudden, you're twelve. You go to high school, find stuff your good at, expand social groups, maybe experience your first kiss and then boom, you're eighteen. You've got your driver's licence, making money, start going on holidays without your parents and pow, you're twenty-four. Now you're older than Mr Bennett! You've moved out, living with friends, maybe you fall in love... then Oh No! You're thirty! You're older than Miss Baldock! You might be married, have a kid, two kids, earning a better wage. Take out a health insurance plan. I repeat, take out a health insurance plan because wow... now you're thirty-six! You're older than Mrs Raven! Maybe you're now the manager at work or started your own business. Your kids are getting bigger and you need a bigger house, better hurry up because now you're forty-two! You're older than Mrs Salisbury! You might want to buy an investment property and take two vacations a year because life is moving really fast and you've suddenly turned forty-eight! Now you're older than Mr Judge! You're glad you took Mr Blaikie's advice and started a health insurance plan eighteen years ago because these colonoscopies are really adding up, then, guess what? You're fifty-four. Finally. You are older than Mr Blaikie.

Now, I'll stop there because fortunately, your life isn't locked into six year increments. From this day on, you choose how to live your life. You might have a four-year plan. Might know what you're doing next year or maybe you're just going to take each day as it comes. Do what feels right but remember, just like the happiness I felt editing the video the other, in the past six years, all of you have made someone at this wonderful Swan View community happy at some stage. Each one of you has the capacity to bring happiness into the lives of others and most importantly, into you own life. I wish each of you all the happiness that life has to offer.

Mr Blaikie

Chaplain's Address

JON JON RAMIREZ

Imagine this scenario- you receive the keys to the brand new work vehicle, at first you're not impressed as it the same make and model as the last vehicle and the same colour - corporate white. Then you hop inside and breathe in the new car smell ...fake leather and vulcanised rubber!

You notice this is a big upgrade from the last rig, electric windows, sat nav, Bluetooth, reverse camera, cup holders and automatic transmission...which a little harder to do skids in but you're up for the challenge.

You go on your first errand as you take off for the power surprises you, it's like riding a wild horse and you're basically holding on for dear life...this is nothing like the last vehicle, it has power...and you likey!

You take it down the first open road Clayton Street Bellevue and as you try tame this beast, you get a bit excited ...then there is a policeman with a radar gun pointed at your forehead, you slow down, look at the down at the speedo and it's on the wrong side of the limit, you totally know the speed limit as this is the drive you take home every day, you have no excuse...you are so busted!

What happens next surprises you, the policeman points at you and mouths the words "Slow down!" and waves you through, you realise you got off with a warning which you can't believe, you are so lucky you feel like buying a lotto ticket...after you check your pants.

Why did the driver get off with a warning?

Was it because of their good looks?

Or was it because the policeman couldn't believe the school bus can go that fast?

What the policeman did, was show mercy towards the driver. What if the policeman pulled the bus over and being merciful, let you off with a warning instead of a fine...but suppose the officer then reached into his wallet and gave you a hundred dollars before sending you on your way.
In that case, he would be following up mercy with grace.

Let's think about the difference between grace and mercy.
Mercy is shown when a person does not get what they deserve and grace is shown when a person gets what they do not deserve.

Let's take a moment to reflect someone in our lives who has shown us mercy and grace, it could be a loved one, a family member, a teacher or even a stranger.

So let's thank God for these people in our lives that make us better! Remember to be grateful for giving us what is good...and be grateful for not giving us what we deserve.

God speed

Head Boy

JOSHUA RAPHAEL

What a memorable 6 years it has been, with some challenges but, for the most part, good memories. For those of you that may not know me, as I am relatively new to the position of head boy. My name is Joshua Raphael, or Raph, as most of the sport teachers call me.

First of all, I'd like to make it clear that I was strongly encouraged into this position by Mr Fletcher and Dr Sekulla. They took me out of class to go up to the office for a meeting, which in all honesty, felt like an interrogation to me. I thought I was in trouble despite my relatively clean record in school. I sat there thinking, surely, I couldn't have done anything that bad. Couldn't have roasted Bayley or Flynn that bad, Yousif helps me with that. But all they asked is if I would be willing to step up as head boy. I was really hesitant at first, but since there was such an urgent need, I said yes. I also knew I wouldn't have to do the full role, only coming into the position half way through the year. In all seriousness, this step up was a good thing. It really got me out of my comfort zone, developing my leadership skills and having to do more public speaking, like this speech.

I would like to thank all the teachers I had throughout my 6 years. Especially the P.E. ones. I don't think I would have gotten through high school without playing sport. My boys. Our toxic conversations kept every class very entertaining, I'm pretty sure our teachers won't miss that though. My sister, I don't know how you helped me but you were there. The whole SRC for helping me adjust with being head boy, and my beautiful girlfriend, for always being by my side through thick and thin.

But the biggest thank you is for my mum and dad. You guys have sacrificed so much for me, to get me to where I am today. All the lifts to basketball every Saturday and even Sundays, sitting though my games, watching me injure myself a countless amount of times and especially for dealing with Chloe and I, constantly arguing. I owe you guys big time, and I will continue to strive to make you pound with everything I do, now and into the future.

I know most of us here, about to graduate, may have very mixed feelings and some are probably dreading having to leave school now. We might even miss the same routine that we have known for a good 14 years of our lives. But sometimes change is good. It's time for us to grow up and change our lives and our world for the better, no matter how big or small that positive change may be.

I know I have been talking for quite a while so, I won't stand here talking your ears off for much longer. I just wanna leave my year 12 class with one thing. Don't worry about that one failed test. Don't worry about that one lost game, or that one disagreement you had with your parents. That's in the past now, just focus on your future and improving yourself to be the best you. Thank you all for being here and listening to me blab on for like 5 minutes, and to all the year 12s, good luck with your future, do whatever makes you happy no matter how hard it may seem. So many of us may choose a path out of fear disguised as practicality and take the easy route. You can fail at what you don't want. So, you might as well take a chance on doing what you love.

Thank you.

JRaphael

Head Girl

KAITLYN HODGESON

Good morning staff, students, guests, and for the final time the class of 2021! We've made it! So, the day we have all been crossing off our calendars for and counting down the weeks and days until it's here, has arrived, our very last day of high school. I've thought about this day and how excited I would be, but now that's its finally here... im not so excited. For the past 6 years this school has been like my second home, and now that I'm not going to be a part of it anymore well, I honestly can't even explain the feeling. I know everyone sitting in front of me right now won't believe me when I say this because I remember over the past few years of hearing the previous year 12s say this and thinking that the teachers had bribed them into saying it or something but when it finally comes to leaving all you want to do is turn back the clock and walk through those green gates again to have just one more day.

If I could've said one thing to myself back in year 7, apart from the obvious "maybe 12 am the day before its due is probably not the best time to start an assignment" it would've been to not take advantage of the time I had here, treasure each day and make as many memories as you can. Because I wish I had have listened to my mum when she told me to make the most out of school because before you know it, it will be over. For someone like me who literally can't think of anything worse than voluntarily waking up before 8 am, to say the least I am not a morning person. But on that note sorry mum for how I was in the mornings, apart from the 1 day a year when she didn't have to drag me out of bed, because I was up at least 2 hours before everyone else making sure my hair was done and trying to get my eyebrows even for school photos. So even though the mornings might be hard, and school may not be the most fun place to be, you will eventually get to where I am today, and wish you cherished school more. Because soon enough you will have to be deciding what the next chapter of your life will be.

There will be times throughout school and life when you'll be left in tears, when you will give up, and when you thought you have failed, but just push through and never give up. Times may get tough, but I promise there will be better times ahead. I'm not saying to push everything aside and pretend nothing is happening because we are all human and our feelings are valid but just take it one step at a time, because in the end what's meant to happen will happen, but just don't expect things to just fall into place, chase your dreams, go after what you want and make things happen for yourself. Never stop reaching for the stars, always strive to be the best version of yourself and never stop trying to achieve your goals.

Thank you to all of the staff members for inspiring, mentoring and helping shape us into the people we have become. Each and every one of you have contributed to my time at swan view and made it a very memorable experience. A few people who deserve a special thank you for having to put up with me over the past year is; Ms raven for being an amazing teacher and always giving us the tough love we needed, Ms Griffin for being the most kind hearted person and always being able to put a smile on any ones face, Ms Taylor for being my school mum and someone I could go to for anything, to Ms B I'm honestly not sure how I would've gotten through the last few years of school without you, you have always been there whenever I needed and I will always be grateful I got to have you as my teacher, and even when you say Shyanne and I are equal my argument will always be that I had you since year 10 and she only came in during year 12. Thank you Mr fletcher, for everything you have done over the past year to help me in my position as head girl and all your hard work you put into SRC. And last but not least thank you to Ms Bradley, you are truly the most inspiring, caring, hardworking andamazing person I know. You pushed me in times when I needed, supported me endlessly, given me the lectures I needed to hear, and always made it known that your door was open whenever I needed it to be.

Something I've learnt from school is that friends will come and go no matter what. You'll go through times when you may have 10 friends or you might only have 2. You'll make friends that you will keep for a lifetime and you'll make friends who you may not see after graduation, but each of the friendships you make will teach you something. whether its to put more effort into those who put effort into you or to know when to leave something behind. I spent so much time throughout high school trying to pretend to be someone I'm not just to fit in or to get people's attention. It took until second last year of high school, but I realised I just had to be myself and then I found my true friends. The people who I could be my full self around, and ever since then they have stuck by my side through everything, and I couldn't be more grateful. But one thing I will say is never let anyone take advantage of you or your time no matter what. Don't be afraid to cut people off that are toxic because you will soon realise, you'll be a lot happier without the stress and hurt they cause, be yourself and if they don't love you for you then they aren't worth your time. You are all special and unique in your own way so make sure you surround yourself with people who make you happy and appreciate you for who you are.

Josh, thank you for standing alongside me this year to represent swan view, although you came late you took on any task you were given, tried your hardest at it and made an amazing head boy. Tyra and Ashley, I think we can both agree along with our teachers that any class we had together we didn't get much work done unless we were separated, I honestly don't even know how we had that much stuff to talk about, but we always found something. Thankyou both for being such amazing friends and always being there for me, I love and appreciate you guys so much. Shyanne and Ruth, well where do I even start. You both know how much I love you guys, so I won't bore the others too much. You guys have been there for me since primary school (there may have been a few arguments in between then and now) but I honestly couldn't imagine life without you both. You are both the most beautiful people inside and out and anyone to have you in their life is so lucky.

The memories I have made with all of the people who are sitting alongside me right now are the memories I will always remember, you guys are how I will remember school not all the sleepless nights, tests, assignments, teaching asking where my assignments are, and homework, but all the good times that we shared. They are the memories we will hold onto and look back at when we think about high school.

I have saved this bit till the end for a reason, so hopefully I don't get too emotional. Now to the most important person in my life, the person who I call my best friend, my rock, and my everything, my mum. My mum never gave me any idea that I couldn't do whatever I wanted to do or be whoever I wanted to be, she always filled our house with endless amounts of love and never failed to be the best role model she could be for us kids. I honestly don't know how you do it, sometimes I think about having to raise 1 child and it scares me, and you did it 4 times on your own. So, thank you for absolutely everything you have done for us kids, I don't know how I could do anything without you by my side. Sorry for all the times when I've said I'll do it in a second and its never gotten done, all the attitude I've given, all the times I've asked to borrow money and never given it back and all the times you've been the only person around for me to take my anger out on. But at the end of the day no matter what you always told me how much you loved me. You truly are the person I aspire to be the most.

Lastly, the class of 2021, our time at Swan View Senior High School is over; it's time to move onto the next part of our lives. It's time to say our goodbyes, not only goodbye to each other but goodbye to what has been comfortable for us and step into the future to be able to move on to bigger and better things. Thank you all so much for the most memorable, unforgettable, frustrating but overall amazing high school experience. We are all capable of amazing things and I hope you all reach success however you may define it and achieve the absolute most you can in life. I wish the best of luck to every single one of you, so let's take the past 6 years of experience, start our new journeys and make ourselves and everyone around us proud.

Thank you.

COURTNEY BARKER (COURT)

"Look Nan I made it."

I will always remember: The faces of the people who had my back, and the ones who stabbed it.
In 10 years I see myself: Hopefully, far far away from here.
What would you say to your Year 7 self: Stop stressing about what people think of you, you dont even like them so why does their opinion matter so much to you ?

MATTHEW BECKER

"Life is like a box of chocolates, you never know what your gonna get. But I have diabetes, so I'll never know."

I will always remember: The weird, random and funny conversations we have in my friend group.
In 10 years I see myself: Having a job as a carpenter, living in a small house or apartment with a pet dog.
Your favourite class, teacher or year and why: Mr Fletcher, for being the most chill teacher with some funny stories.

DYLAN BRAGG

I will always remember: The friends I made and the good times I had.
In 10 years I see myself: Being a lot happier than I am now with a lot more ntays and the loudest speeker money can get me to share my music with the whole suburb.
One word to describe your High School journey: Worthwhile

SHANELLE CALLAGHAN (NELL NELL)

"You must strive to find your own voice because the longer you wait to begin, the less likely you are to find it at all."

I will always remember: Xyzle in Year 8 FAME...
In 10 years I see myself: Im not really sure, but definitely somewhere better than i am now I might have a better job, new friends or I might be exactly where i am today.
Your favorite class, teacher or year and why: My favorite class was definitly ATAR drama or FAME because of all the memories and life skills it has provided me over the years. My favorite teacher was Ms Rogers for being my Inspiration.

PHUONG CALLO

"Never give up on your dreams, keep sleeping."

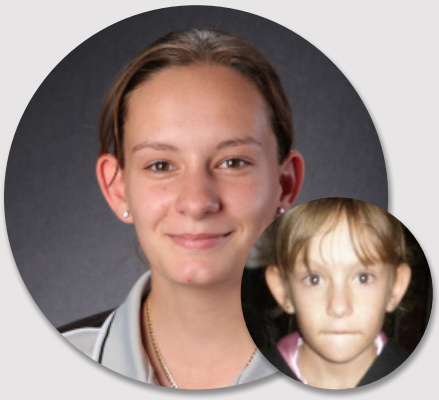

I will always remember: The fun moments at school.
In 10 years I see myself: Somewhere out there.
One word to describe your High School journey: Fun

YEN CALLO

"Broke is temporary, drip is forever."

I will always remember: My friends.
In 10 years I see myself: Unknown.
One word to describe your High School journey: Stressful.

LETITIA CAMILLERI (TEESH)

"Take time to do what makes your soul happy."

I will always remember: The camps with Grumps.
In 10 years I see myself: With a family and a job I love doing.
Your favourite class, teacher or year and why: Mr Fletcher beacuse I could ask for help without feeling judged.

NATHANIEL CROSS

"Well, actually your wrong!"

I will always remember: The people and friends. How I was treated, and valuable lessons from people who did stupid things.
In 10 years I see myself: If things go well I should be in Uni studying to be a genetic engineer.
If I could change one thing about my time in High School, it would be: How I treated people. Thinking back on it, I probably could have been less childish, more honest. I don't know what or why I did it.

XYZLE AYNE DE LARA (XYE)

"All that glitters is not gold."

I will always remember: The sleepless nights of staring at the blinking cursor of my blank word document, wondering why. Just why?
In 10 years I see myself: Bold of you to assume I can still see.
One word to desribe your High School journey: No.

DESTINEE DHUE (BELLES)

"Never try, never fail. Those are the words I live by"

I will always remember: Ms Nguyen's Year 9 science class, sorry about your dog and being called 'Dory' for a very long time.
In 10 years I see myself:
What would you say to your Year 7 self: You will be told that it gets better, listen. You find things, people, places, to make it easier along the way.

CHARLIZE GREEN (CHARLI)

"Welcome to the real world, It sucks, Your gonna love it."- Monica

I will always remember: All of the happy, fun and stupid times I had and the life lessons I have leant from my highschool experience. They made me the person I am today. No regrets :)
In 10 years I see myself: Exactly where I planned to be. Working as a Primary School teacher.
What would you say to your Year 7 self: I hate to admit it Mum is always right and stick with your true friends. As Dad always said you are lucky if you can count your true friends on only one hand.

BRODY HARTIN (ESHAY)

"If your stuck trying to be somone your not, you'll never know how amazing you can be when you are being you."

I will always remember: Mr Judge and him saying "Watch yourself" every time we passed eachother.
In 10 years I see myself: Working for myself and supporting my family.
If I could change one thing about my time in High School, it would be: Probably my outbursts of anger towards not so serious things.

LILLY HARTIN (LIL LIL)

"Opinions are like mixtapes. I dont want to hear yours ;)"

I will always remember: Gossiping with Abbey about our weekend shenanigans and assuring ourselves that we're making the right decisions even though we probably weren't.
In 10 years I see myself: I see myself in a theatre acting for hundereds of people or teaching Primary School children and calling my mum crying every night because im having a small life crisis.
What would you say to your Year 7 self: Dying your hair purple didn't make you stand out any more than anyone else in Year 7. That was not a trend. That was a dissapointment, but good on you for being you.

KAITLIN HODGSON

"It is what it is."

I will always remember: The amount of notes I wrote to get out of sport and signed them as my dad because his signature isnt on any other school paperwork. And having to explain to Arlyn that her car didn't have a cylinder because fuel holes and cylinders are different things.
In 10 years I see myself: With a rich husband (or fiance), 2 kids, and just doing a job I love. Also I better have been to Europe or America by then.

"Money talks, but all mine ever says is goodbye."

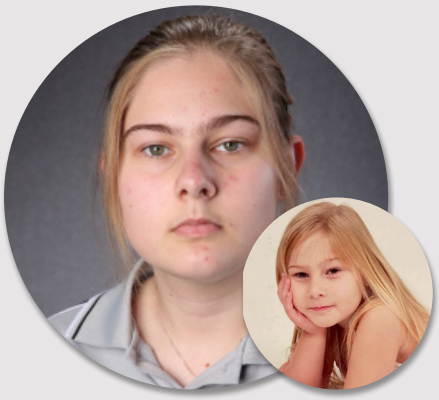

I will always remember: All of the times I have tripped over, or fallen down the stairs.
In 10 years I see myself: Upgrading my car, or just buying a new one. Hehe.
What would you say to your Year 7 self: Leave while you still can... Kidding. It'll get better over time. You'll get there in the end.

ASHLEY JONES

"Better late then never."

I will always remember: Finding a way to get out of class.
In 10 years I see myself: Working a full time job and living my life to the fullest.
Your favorite class, teacher or year and why: Business in Year 12 with Mr Judge because he is easy to get along with and can have a good laugh

CASSANDRA KOP

"Life... is a tale, told by an idiot, full of sound and fury. Signifying nothing."

I will always remember: The existential crisis and self deprivation that arose from my adolecent experience. (a.k.a ATAR.)
What would you say to your Year 7 self: It doesn't matter. We're all just miniscule organisms living meaninglessly on a floating rock.

KYLE LAMONT (HOMELESS DAVE)

"Say Kyle 3 times fast."

I will always remember: Being part of the ANZAC assemblies as a cadet.
In 10 years I see myself: Either in the army or the police force.
One word to describe your High School journey: Boring.

I will always remember: The first day of public school after coming from a private school.
In 10 years I see myself: Hopefully living a happy and successful life.
What would you say to your Year 7 self: To stick everything out, the situations you are put in will help you grow as a person.

JAMES MARSHALL (VIKING JEFF)

"I'm a kid with a dream: to spend my life under a car fixing some poor man's lowrider. Just to elaborate, that's my poor mans low rider. "

I will always remember: When Kyle woke up in Science and said 'Who is that new cute girl in class.' refering to me, when I had my hair down.
In 10 years I see myself: With a Hyundai with a V8 and a Mazda MX-5 1994 and a dream to rip a corner with a busted up Ute.
What would you say to your Year 7 self: You will finsih school. Don't be so stubborn, you shortie. Bully Kev (my brother) for me.

JESSICA MCKAY (JESS)

"Thankyou to whoever created copy and paste."

"Comand-C...Comand-V"

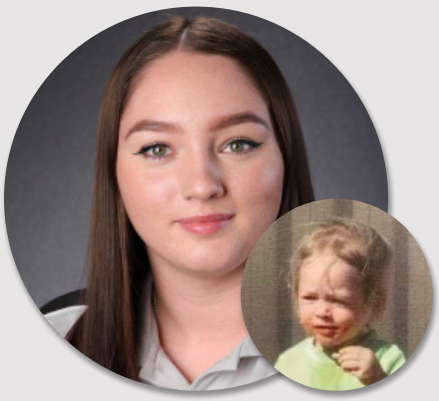

I will always remember: When Caleb face planted while bike riding in Outdoor Ed and his bike flying towards me.
In 10 years I see myself: 10 years older.
One word to describe your High School journey: Hello?

BAYLEY MCMAHON

"Lebron is GOAT"

I will always remember: How fun school was with my boys.
In 10 years I see myself: Im not sure I guess I'll see in 10 years
Your favorite class, teacher or year and why? : Year 11 cos all the boys were there.

SHYANNE MCMILES

""Rate this place a point five out of 10."

I will always remember: How Ruth and I managed to make everyone believe that I stabbed her in the stomach because 'I was mad at her'.
In 10 years I see myself: Rich with my black, grey, and white Siberian Husky that has different coloured eyes. Also travelling Europe. I have high hopes if you can't tell.
What would you say to your Year 7 self: Dont worry. Your eyebrows get better.

CALEB MINUTILLO (WALKING HAZARD)

"Money doesn't buy happiness but it makes being sad a lot easier."

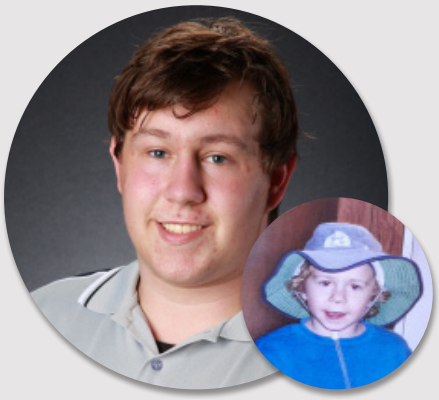

I will always remember: This place; it follows me in my nightmares.
In 10 years I see myself: With my physical and mental state, I try to think one day at a time.

BERTHA MOORE

"So proud of you and love you to pieces."- My Mum

I will always remember: My first day at school when I got called heartless.
In 10 years I see myself: Working, and with children.
What would you ay to your Year 7 self: Leave this school. ASAP!

EVAN PUGH

"I'm not fat, I'm fluffy."

I will always remember: When James got all his hair shaved off.
In 10 years I see myself: Paying off my mortgages on my dream house.
If I could change one thing about my time in High School, it would be... I would come to SVSHS in Year 7 not Year 10.

JOSHUA RAPHAEL (RAPH)

"Remind yourself, nobodys built like you. You design yourself."

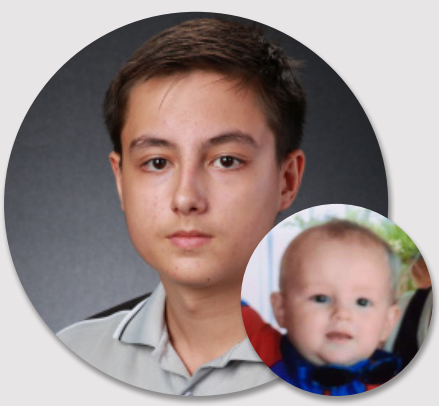

I will always remember: All the toxic conversations with all my boys, Bayley, Yousif, Kye, Tyler and Flynn, it kept every class entertaining.
In 10 years I see myself: Earning at least a six figure paycheck a year.
What would you say to your Year 7 self: Don't stress about Years 7-10, take it easy and the easiest, quickest ways to get work done.

LAURA RICHARDSON

"Still have no clue what x is."

I will always remember: Having my friends by my side when needed.
In 10 years I see myself: Hopefully happy.
What would you say to your Year 7 self: Life can get better just persue your happiness.

JOSH ROTARU

"Well this sucks."

I will always remember: The first time i entered my Year 7 form class and met some interesting people.
In 10 years I see myself: I would like to acomplish a successful sparky, by working at the mines or army.
What is the most creative excuse you have used to get out of homework: I told my English Teacher my computer melted its insides.

JACK RUDD (WALKING WIFI)

"DILLIGAF."

I will always remember: Year 10. We went through so many english teachers, no one cared about work and we all got along. Jumping on tabels, setting off fire extinguishers and gassing out the classroom with deodarant. Best class I've had at school.
In 10 years I see myself: Working as a mechanic and starting music career.
If I could change one thing about my time in High School: Coming to Swan View straight after primary so i could have met the right friends sooner.

SYDNEY SAN DIEGO

"I want to be like Picasso. I wanna die in my sleep."

I will always remember: My friends.
In 10 years I see myself: I see myself as a mother of three kids in 10 years.
What would you say to your Year 7 self: Be better.

"You do you I'll do me."

I will always remember: The memories I made with everyone.
In 10 years I see myself: As a Year 2 teacher and starting my own family.
If I could change one thing about my time in High School, it would be: Not getting involved in all the drama.

FLYNN SHELDON (BLINDBOY)

"I'm glad it's over."

I will always remember: Sitting at the table at lunch and recess with the boys.
In 10 years I see myself: Honestly just working and improving my qualifications and just making money.
One word to describe your High School journey: Special.

ABBEY SOUTHERN (ABBEY DABBY)

"Just because you're trash dosen't mean you can't do great things. It's called garbage can not garbage cannot."

I will always remember: Lilly Hartin eatting the floor (face planting) 10 minutes before she had to go stage for a drama performance.
In 10 years I see myself: Probably still living with my mum studying medicine. Or living in a van travelling the coast, who knows? Depends on how this ATAR thing works out.
One word to describe your High School journey: Whoops.

ISOBEL STONE

"Yep."

I will always remember: When Mrs Salisbury growled at me in a test.
In 10 years I see myself: Hopefully happy.
What would you say to your Year 7 self: Dont let the fear of others hold you back. Be yourself and be proud of it.

KAREN SUMMERS (KAZZA)

"Blonde moments? Pshh I have blonde months."

I will always remember: Meeting my wonderful friends and finding myself as a person.
In 10 years I see myself: Hopefully happy with myself and having a stable life.
What would you say to your Year 7 self: Your not the same person you were in Year 7 and also...exercise.

ALEXANDER TANASIJEVIC (ALEX)

I will always remember: The people. Everyone I've met have been the kindest, and funniest people I've ever had the pleasure of knowing.
In 10 years I see myself: Being the Elon Musk of bad ideas.
What would you say to your Year 7 self: Life will be like a roller coaster, expect It's facing downward, constatly. It's more like a pit rally. But hey, you get to open a door.
